Little Rock Group Seeks Private Buildings, Funds

Last Ditch Plan For Segregated Schools Bared

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI) — The Little Rock Private School Corporation disclosed last ditch plans Wednesday to operate private segregated schools in private buildings with public contributions.

Dr. T. J. Raney, president of the corporation, said the plan may boil down to classes in private homes and no schools for Negroes.

He said the plans will be put into operation next week, if the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals permanently forbids the use of four public high school buildings for private, segregated schools.

He appealed for both buildings and money and said the corporation has chosen its course and as long as it is supported by the people of Little Rock, "there will be no turning back."

Dr. Raney read a statement about the corporation's plans at a news conference in Gov. Orval E. Faubus' conference room.

Refuses To Answer

He refused to answer questions there, but a reporter asked him later whether the corporation proposed to take funds from white segregationists and set up private schools for Negroes.

"It looks like we are operating in private homes," he said. "There will be no Negro schools that I can see. We have received no contributions for any."

He announced that the first major contribution was "$5,000 and all I have to do is pick it up." He declined to say who made it. It costs about $4,500 a day to operate the four high schools on a public basis.

The schools have been closed to more than 3,000 students, of whom 700 are Negroes, since Sept. 2.

Charles Beaver, 22, a Negro waiter, charged that a white boy in a passing automobile shouted "nigger" at him early Wednesday and shot him in his arm just below the shoulder.

Surgeons took out a .22 caliber slug, bandaged the wound and sent him home. They said the wound was minor.

Investigate Shooting

Police said they were investigating reports that Beaver was shot in a scuffle with other Negroes.

Other integration developments: —President Eisenhower said it is "incumbent upon all Americans, public officials and private citizens alike, to recognize their duty of complying with the rulings" of the Supreme Court. Any other course, he said, is "fraught with grave consequences to the nation."

—Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. of Virginia said he hopes to open six closed schools in Norfolk within a few days. He indicated he may start only classes which Negroes have not tried to integrate.

Quemoy Under Heavy Gunfire

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI)—Communist Chinese artillery fire thundered into the Quemoy Islands Wednesday in a sustained six-hour barrage at the rate of 15 shells a minute. Searing phosphorous shells exploded on tiny Tatan Island, a possible invasion target fronting Amoy harbor.

The intense barrage broke out after the second Nationalist convoy in two days unloaded badly needed ammunition and priority supplies on besieged Big Quemoy Island. The Communist guns continued blazing Wednesday night but concentrated on Little Quemoy, according to UPI Correspondent Robert C. Miller, who landed on big island from the convoy.

The civil administrator on Little Quemoy has said only about three weeks of food supply remains for its 5,000 farmers and fishermen who now are unable to work because of the persistent shelling.

Chrysler And UAW Agree On Contract

GM Strike Set For 10 A. M. Today

DETROIT (UPI)—Chrysler Corp., and the United Auto Workers Union reached new contract agreements Wednesday less than 20 hours before the 10 a. m. Thursday deadline for a nation-wide strike at General Motors.

The agreement at Chrysler was identical in basic framework to the Ford package agreement reached just two weeks ago, on Sept. 17.

Chrysler and union negotiators, led by UAW President Walter P. Reuther, paved the way for settlement by sidestepping all terms of a contract for 8,500 salaried engineering and office workers with talks on a separate contract for them recessed until Thursday morning.

Frauleins Try To Mob Presley

FRIEDBERG, Germany (UPI)—

Hysterical German teen-age girls climbed over two high wire fences and sneaked through military police lines around a U.S. Army post Wednesday night to give Pvt. Elvis Presley a screaming reception to his new job in Germany.

"Look! Look! How handsome he is," shrieked one girl as the Memphis, Tenn., hipster-in-uniform stepped from the military train bringing him from Bremerhaven.

Army officials had their hands full keeping the teen-agers away from the guitar-playing singer both here and when he arrived at Bremerhaven earlier in the day aboard a troopship.

They were dumbfounded when they found 50 girls had sneaked over fences and through guards at the front gate to the barracks area on the post. The troop train had been brought directly onto the post to prevent any demonstration for Presley.

When Presley debarked from the ship at Bremerhaven, carrying his duffel bag over his shoulder, 500 girls screamed with delight.

They ignored the 1,399 other U.S. soldiers that got off the ship with the hip-wriggling entertainer.

The girls in the crowd at Bremerhaven never got close enough to touch Elvis but they waved and blew kisses. He shouted back: "I'm very happy to be here." That was all.

Officials Told Plastic Bags Used In 'Rock' Escape Bid

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The FBI broadcast a nationwide alert Wednesday for a 28-year-old St. Louis gunman who may have used home-made plastic water wings in his bid to become the first convict known to escape from Alcatraz Prison.

The convict, Aaron W. Burgett, has been missing since Monday afternoon when he and another convict overpowered a guard at knife-point while on a garbage detail outside the prison walls. The other inmate, Clyde Johnson, 40, Memphis, Tenn., was recaptured.

Integration Acceptance Urged By Ike

Eisenhower Calls On South To Obey Rulings Of Courts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower appealed to the South Wednesday to recognize its duty to comply with court-ordered school integration and grant "all our people" their constitutional rights.

In a statement stemming from the Supreme Court's latest ruling Monday, he said that any other course except compliance with court school orders would be "fraught with grave consequences to our nation."

The President came to his first news conference since Aug. 27 armed with "a little statement" on the integration problem. In brief, it was a plea to all Americans — public officials and private citizens alike — to be true to "our constitutional ideals."

Eisenhower, who appeared in ruddy good health following his Newport, R.I., vacation, discussed most current issues dispassionately. But he spoke with more than his usual forcefulness in ruling out any appeasement of Communist China.

Irked At Two Reporters

He also was irked at two reporters who persisted with questions he apparently did not think particularly relevant. And he expressed amazement with the election "apathy" of some Republicans. He also was puzzled by some foreign reaction to U.S. foreign policy.

The President made these major points and announcements:

—Demilitarization of the Quemoy and Matsu islands off the China coast was a possible solution to the Formosa crisis. But he added that it might not satisfy all concerned, presumably Chiang Kai-shek, the Chinese Nationalist leader. Speaking as a soldier, he said maintenance of large Nationalist forces on Quemoy for any great period was not wise.

—The atomic submarine Seawolf had been submerged for 55 days far beyond the previous record of 31 days held by the Skate. He said the Seawolf was "still going strong" and on the way to a record that would be hard to beat.

—Physical Checkup Friday

—He will enter Walter Reed Army Medical Center Friday for his annual physical checkup. He announced it because he did not want anyone to get the idea he had a "new illness". The White House said a report on the head-to-toe examination would be issued Saturday.

—He never asked anyone to seek the resignation of his chief assistant, Sherman Adams. But he said "there is no question" but that others advised Adams "very strongly" that it was best he leave as a result of the furor over Adams' gifts from industrialist Bernard Goldfine. The President also said he planned to issue a table of the White House staff reorganization to show how issues are funneled upward to him for a final decision.

—Reuther said that outside the basic framework of the Ford agreement, the Chrysler agreement covered additional issues relating specifically to Chrysler in the areas of grievance procedure, representation and seniority.

Among the basic terms of the new agreement were a three-year pact, providing wage increases of 10 cents an hour in the first year, plus at least 7 cents an hour in the next two; retention of the cost-of-living formula for pay raises; an 8-cent-an-hour extra pay raise for skilled workers; improved supplemental unemployment benefits and extension of duration of payment from 26 to 39 weeks; increase in pensions from the present $2.25 per month for each year worked to a maximum of $2.50 per month.

—Workers Electrocuted

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (UPI)—Five workers were electrocuted and 10 hospitalized in serious condition Wednesday when a broken electric wire sent 160 volts of current surging through evaporators in a salt mine. Police said 15 other persons working in the mine were injured slightly.

—At Least 34 Dead In French Floods

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—Thirty-four bodies were recovered Wednesday after the most disastrous floods in the history of southern France.

Soldiers, firemen, police and volunteers worked in mud throughout the day rescuing stranded families in the 1,000-square-mile flood area near Ales and Nimes.

Following heavy rain in the mountains, rivers and streams rose as much as 20 feet in less than three hours Tuesday night.

—"Man High" Balloon Flight Postponed

CROSBY, Minn. (UPI)—The Air Force Wednesday postponed its "Man High III" balloon flight to the stratosphere for the third time and said it would not attempt a launching until Friday at the earliest.

A spokesman said Friday "would be the earliest possible moment" for winds to die down sufficiently to permit 1st Lt. Clinton McClure, 26, Anderson, S.C., attempt the flight 20 miles above the earth.

Seawolf Under Water 55 Days On Record Run

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nuclear-powered submarine Seawolf has set a new world record by cruising submerged for 55 days and is still going strong. It was disclosed Wednesday.

President Eisenhower, obviously pleased, volunteered the information at his news conference. He said the Seawolf's crew was building up a record that other nations would find mighty hard to beat.

The President said the Seawolf, second nuclear-powered submarine ever built, completed its 54th day submerged at 11:45 a. m. e. d. t. Tuesday.

He said it is still going strong, completely independent of the earth's atmosphere. Counting Wednesday, this means it now has been submerged 55 days. The old submerged record, set last May by the nuclear-powered Skate, was 31 days, 5½ hours.

Neither the President nor the Navy, which announced additional details on the Seawolf's record cruise, would say how many miles the submarine had traveled.

But it has maintained a speed of 20 knots, which it presumably is capable of approaching, it could have covered enough miles to equal the distance around the world at the equator.

The Seawolf submerged on its record run at 11:45 a. m. e. d. t. Aug. 7.

The Navy said the Seawolf, commanded by Cmdr. Richard B. Laning, 40, of Amherst, Va., is operating in the north Atlantic and will return to New London, Conn., at 4 p. m. e. d. t. next Monday.

Eisenhower's announcement was the latest in a series hailing historic accomplishments of America's nuclear submarine fleet.

In August, the Nautilus, the world's first atomic powered ship, and the Skate crossed over the North Pole while cruising under the Arctic ice cap.

—Wartime Deserter To Be Freed Tuesday

VERDUN, France (UPI)—U.S. Army Pvt. Wayne Powers, who deserted just before the Battle of the Bulge in World War II and hid with his French sweetheart for 14 years, will go free next week, the Army announced Wednesday.

Powers, 37, of Chillicothe, Mo., was sentenced to 10 years at hard labor and a dishonorable discharge by a courtmartial Aug. 1. The sentence later was reduced to six months.

Brig. Gen. Robert J. Fleming, commander of the U.S. base at Verdun, announced Wednesday that Powers would be freed next Tuesday and permitted to go home to his sweetheart and their five children.

ANZUS Nations Call On Peiping To End Attacks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States, Australia, and New Zealand called on the Chinese Communists Wednesday night to end their attacks on the Quemoy and Matsu islands "as a first step to a peaceful settlement" of the Formosa crisis.

The three powers made the appeal in a statement released at the end of the annual meeting of the foreign ministers of the ANZUS Pact, the 1951 defense alliance they concluded at San Francisco.

"Regardless of the merits of claims and counter-claims the use of aggressive force is a violation of the basic principle on which world order depends," the statement said. "Armed force should not be used to achieve territorial ambitions."

The appeal came only a few hours after President Eisenhower told his news conference the "demilitarization" of Quemoy and Matsu was a possible solution to the Formosa crisis. The President conceded, however, that such a formula might not satisfy all concerned.

The day-long ANZUS council meeting was attended by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Australian External Affairs Minister Richard G. Casey and New Zealand Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Walter Nash.

The Soviet note said that "at the present time the Geneva conference of experts confirms that any tests of atomic or nuclear weapons cannot remain undetected."

"There should not be any obstacle for powers that have nuclear weapons to conclude an agreement on the immediate cessation of testing all types of atomic and nuclear weapons for eternity," it said.

—U.S.-Chiang Policy Split Threatens Peace Efforts

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A policy split between the United States and Nationalist China Wednesday threatens U.S. efforts to find a compromise way out of the Formosa crisis.

The split became dramatically evident in divergent statements made by Secretary of State Dulles here and by President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa. The Chinese Nationalist chief spoke out in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press after Dulles' news conference Tuesday.

The issue on which they focused attention is the future of the Nationalist-held coastal islands, Quemoy and Matsu.

In essence, Dulles made clear the United States would be willing to negotiate over future use of the islands if the Chinese Communists stop their attacks on Quemoy

Minister Level Talks On A-Test Ban Proposed

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union Wednesday proposed a foreign ministers' conference of the United States, Russia and Britain be held in Geneva to discuss suspension of nuclear weapons testing "for eternity."

The proposal, contained in identical notes delivered to the U.S. and British embassies here, was the first official Soviet move since the United States charged Russia exploded two nuclear bombs Tuesday.

The note said the "object of the conference is the conclusion of an agreement on the cessation forever of tests of atomic and nuclear weapons with the establishment of appropriate controls for the execution of such agreements."

The note made no mention of the Western charges nor of any change in the status of Russia's nuclear weapons suspension announced last March 31.

(Willard F. Libby, acting U.S. atomic energy commissioner, reported in Washington Tuesday "the detection of the resumption of nuclear weapons testing by the U.S.S.R." He said there were two place north of the Arctic Circle detonations, both of which "took and were of moderate to high yield.")

(But State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the United States intended to go through with its plans to suspend nuclear weapons tests for a year on Oct. 31 and begin talks with Russia on more permanent arrangements then if the Russian's conduct no further tests after negotiations have begun.)

The Soviet note said that "at the present time the Geneva conference of experts confirms that any tests of atomic or nuclear weapons cannot remain undetected."

"There should not be any obstacle for powers that have nuclear weapons to conclude an agreement on the immediate cessation of testing all types of atomic and nuclear weapons for eternity," it said.

and thus establish a cease-fire in the region. The Reds have had Quemoy under bombardment since Aug. 23.

The status of Quemoy and Matsu thus becomes a bargaining point in Dulles' efforts to quell the danger of a more general war in the Far East.

The question sharply posed by Chiang's response is how Dulles can bargain at all without the cooperation and support of Nationalist China—cooperation and support which the generalissimo, on the basis of Wednesday's interview, apparently intends to deny.

Chiang challenged the whole concept of trying to get the Chinese Reds to accept a cease-fire. He said he is opposed even to reduction of the 100,000 of his best troops which he has deployed on the coastal islands.

Nationalists Say Islands Vital Shield

Balk At Cease-Fire Deal Involving Cut In Outpost Forces

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek balked at the U.S. formula for peace in Formosa Strait and his Nationalist government then flatly rejected it Thursday.

Chiang made clear in an interview he is opposed to reducing the garrisons of the offshore islands at the price of a cease-fire. He implied he would be free to ignore any cease-fire negotiated by the United States and Red China.

An official statement from the Foreign Ministry said troop cuts would clear the way for a Red invasion of Formosa and therefore "we cannot countenance the reduction of this defensive strength."

Dulles Statement Assailed

Chiang and his Foreign Office aimed their shafts at a statement by Secretary of State Dulles in a Washington news conference Tuesday. Dulles proposed a cut in the Nationalist offshore garrisons in exchange for a cease-fire. He was backed up Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

The Foreign Ministry, after an all-night series of meetings, called the Quemoy and Matsu offshore island groups indispensable shields to Formosa.

"For this reason we must defend them to the best of our ability," the statement said. "The Chinese Communists have always wanted to invade these islands as a prelude to what they have repeatedly declared to be an invasion of Taiwan (Formosa) itself."

The statement, delivered by ministry spokesman Kiang Yi-seng, asserted that since 1949, the Communists have been building a powerful military force on the mainland coast opposite Formosa.

Invasion Threat Remains

"In the face of this ever present threat of invasion, it is only natural that we should station a strong garrison force to meet any attack," it said.

"In any event, the Chinese government has made it known time and again that it would defend its legitimate rights and not be bound by any arrangement which would prejudice these rights and interests."

Chiang in his interview with this correspondent said he could not believe Dulles could be seriously thinking of asking for a cut in the offshore garrisons; or that Dulles believed a dependable cease-fire could be arranged with the Chinese Communists.

Jeering Crowd Stones School

WHEELWRIGHT, Ky. (UPI)—A jeering, stone-throwing crowd of white students and adults Wednesday forced suspension of classes at Wheelwright High School as the aftermath of a fight between a white girl and a Negro girl in a restaurant.

Several school windows were broken before state police and local authorities arrived to disperse the crowd of about 100 students and other white persons.

Principal Boone Hall said he suspended the Negro girl but had not yet been able to talk to the white girl. He said it was school policy to suspend students for two days for fighting and expel them for a second offense.

Hall was not certain that the demonstration stemmed entirely from the clash between Velma Mosley, 16, and the Negro girl, Ernestine Johnson, 17. Students also were said to be angry because their lunch hours have been cut from 1 hour to 35 minutes.

When students learned the girls had been sent home, about 60 of them, mostly girls, left classes and demonstrated in front of the school. Some members of the crowd which gathered threw rocks and three or four windows were smashed.

—Nationalists Claim Mainland Support

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Vice President Chen Cheng said Wednesday his government has completely regained the support of population on the Communist-ruled Chinese mainland.

Chen told the legislative Yuan the shift in mainland support to the Nationalists was due to disillusionment with Red rule and successful "land to the tiller" reforms in Formosa reconstruction programs.

Crippled Airliner With 37 Felt Confident Aboard Landed Safely Quemoy Siege Will Be Broken

BALTIMORE (AP) — A four-engine Eastern Air Lines plane with 32 passengers and a crew of five made an emergency landing at the nearby Martin Co. airport Wednesday after an engine caught fire.

No one was hurt and the landing was normal in every way except that only three of the big plane's four engines were running.

Martin officials treated the passengers to a snack in the plant cafeteria, then transported them by bus the 16 miles across town to Friendship International Airport, where a standby Eastern plane continued the Newark-to-Miami flight after a delay of one hour, 51 minutes.

The coach flight, No. 549, left Newark at 12:50 p. m. Its first stop was to have been Friendship on the southwest side of the city at 1:41 p. m.

Harold Williams, flight engineer, said the plane was at 3,000 feet altitude, about 10 miles north of the Martin Airport when one of the crew reported seeing the reflection of fire in the No. 3 engine nacelle, which is the inboard engine on the right wing. The pilot, Capt. Jim Hoad, released a fire extinguishing fluid into the engine and feathered its prop.

Road Temporarily Bypasses Cemetery

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — An island of earth and trees — rising 20 feet above the flat, graded road surface — sits smack in the middle of construction work on Maryland 2.

It contains a family burial plot 200 years old. Under Maryland law, a cemetery cannot be moved without the signatures of the governor, the heirs involved and a minister.

State Roads Commission engineers are by-passing the plot until arrangements can be made to re-inter the remains elsewhere.

The property is owned by Darrell W. Sansbury, whose family was one of the original settlers of the area.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander-in-chief of U.S. Pacific Forces, said Wednesday night the siege of Quemoy will be cracked just as the blockade of Berlin was broken.

Felt said that the Chinese Nationalists are creating an airlift for the supply of the offshore islands and are using "tricks" of amphibious supply which it "took us years to learn."

He said that supplies to Quemoy were reaching the necessary 350-tons daily level now.

"I think they are going to keep this thing rolling," he told a news conference. "I think we will have another situation like the Berlin airlift when the United States proved to the world we would come to the help of our friends."

Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker predicted Sunday that within two weeks supplies would be getting to the beleaguered Nationalist island in abundance daily. He said the blockade of Quemoy had been "licked."

"Our objective is to keep this thing from exploding into war," the four-star admiral said.

Felt, who became the top U.S. military man in the Pacific in August, was here to attend the council meeting of the ANZUS powers. They include Australia, New Zealand, and the United States. He will return to Hawaii Thursday.

The ANZUS power nations called on the Chinese Communists following their meeting to end attacks on the offshore islands "as a first step to a peaceful settlement" of the Formosa crisis.

The admiral, queried on whether he would have to use nuclear weapons if the United States became involved in war in the Formosa Strait, said "we have lots of ammunition and we know how to use it." He said he meant conventional ammunition and had never stated in messages to the Joint Chiefs of Staff or otherwise that nuclear weapons would have to be used.

New Civilian Agency Takes Over Direction Of Vanguard Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government's new civilian space agency Wednesday took over direction of the U.S. moon rocket and Vanguard satellite programs from the military services.

Transfer of the programs to the National Aeronautics and Space Agency (NASA) was ordered by President Eisenhower who gave the agency broad responsibilities in the U.S. effort to conquer space.

The order made no change in the Defense Department's responsibility for missiles and other space weapons and defenses against attack from rockets.

It also made NASA and the armed forces partners in the program designed eventually to put a "man in space."

The Navy's pioneering Vanguard program, successful only once in seven shots, was put directly under the new agency.

NASA chief T. Keith Glennan said Dr. John P. Hagen of the naval research laboratory would continue as Vanguard director.

But he refused to say if the program would be carried on after four Vanguard rockets already built are fired. The 150-member

Vanguard staff will continue to use Navy facilities "for the time being."

NASA also takes over direction, but not the actual work, of four more attempts to shoot rockets to the moon. The Air Force and the Army each plan two "lunar probes," and will continue projects under NASA supervision.

In addition, NASA will be responsible for three Army space projects—one to launch a new cosmic ray explorer satellite and two attempts to place balloon-type satellites in orbit. One of the balloon satellites, mentioned in congressional testimony but never detailed before Wednesday's order, will be 12 feet in diameter and the other 100 feet across.

Dag Sees Hope For Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld held out hope on Wednesday for disarmament and called upon the United Nations to give support to the Geneva talks beginning Oct. 31.

The talks will concentrate on the possibility of suspending nuclear weapons tests and to East-West negotiations on safeguards against surprise attack.

Disarmament is expected to be the first item on the agenda of the assembly's main political committee. The 81-nation committee is expected to start work next week.

The staff side of the family is the female side, so called because the ladies once spun thread from the flax on the distaff.

Ike Slaps At GOP 'Apathy'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower grimly warned Republicans Wednesday they will lose the Nov. 4 congressional elections and sacrifice his "moderate philosophy of government" unless they shake off their apathy.

He denounced as "incomprehensible" reports reaching him "about sitting-on-hands and complacency" among members of his party. He sounded almost bitter as he called on them to give out with their "time, brains and money."

The President, drawn into a sary Wednesday with a huge political discussion at his news rade of armed forces and labor conference, also stood firm on his battalions and a warning that it neutral position regarding "right-intended to take the offshore is-to-work" laws. He said again it lands, Formosa, and the Pesca-was strictly a matter for the dores.

Baltimore Revenue Slump Confirmed

BALTIMORE (AP) — A gloomy revenue outlook which Baltimore City has been forecasting for some time was confirmed Wednesday by the State Tax Commission.

The commission estimated that city tax sources also taxed by the state will yield about 120 million dollars less money in 1959 than during the current year.

Albert W. Ward, commission secretary, said the anticipated drop reflects the 25 per cent reduction on manufacturers machinery and equipment inventories which will take place Jan. 1.

Auto Thefts Decline

BALTIMORE (AP)—Auto thefts dropped sharply in Baltimore during September. Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron said only 244 such cases were reported compared with 385 for August. He credited the decline to the new practice of stopping all suspicious teen-age drivers through the night for routine checks.

New York City and New Orleans are the two principal coffee centers of the United States.

Governors Will Speak At Dinner

BALTIMORE (AP) — The governors of West Virginia and Maryland will meet again Saturday night—perhaps to do some reminiscing about last week's Southern Governors' conference which they attended in Lexington, Ky. Gov. Cecil Underwood of West Virginia will be in Martinsburg to dedicate new National Air Guard facilities at the Martinsburg airport and present the state's Distinguished Service Medal to Gill Robb Wilson.

Wilson, a former resident of Parkersburg, has long been a prominent figure in aviation and is now editor and publisher of Flying Magazine.

Underwood will then fly to Baltimore to attend the annual fall meeting of the Baltimore chapter of the West Virginia University Alumni Association. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland will join Underwood at the dinner meeting and both will speak. Reuben Lee of Baltimore is president of the chapter.

Television sets are found in more than two-thirds of all homes in the United States.

Jobless Benefits Drop In Paradox

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Department of Employment Security said Wednesday that benefits paid to jobless Marylanders dropped during August — but the figure was twice that for August last year.

And despite the drop in checks issued under the Maryland Unemployment Insurance program, the number of persons receiving money under the 13-week emergency extension program rose. Executive Director Robert B. Kimble explained the paradox by saying it was caused by persons exhausting their benefits under the regular program and shifting to the additional 13-week extension.

The regular jobless checks during August amounted to $3,923,250, down 15.5 per cent from $4,640,922 during July. During the month 2,526 persons exhausted their full 26 weeks of unemployment checks, bringing the total of such persons to 26,713 since Oct. 1, when it first became possible to exhaust their benefits.

The heaviest rainfall in the world occurs in the southern slopes of the Himalayan mountains in Northern India.

"Preacher" Jailed For Tipsy Driving

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 57-year-old man who said he was a preacher was given the maximum penalty—a $1,000 fine and three months in jail—today for drunken driving.

Magistrate S. Robert Levinson, after passing sentence, told Milton B. Davage, a Negro, he also would recommend to the commissioner of motor vehicles that Davage's license be permanently revoked. He said Davage had one of the worst traffic records he had seen. Davage was arrested Tuesday after two policemen noticed his car weaving.

Davage said he was a preacher for several churches but did not identify them.

South Silver Spring Building Site Urged

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP)—Silver Spring business leaders have urged the Montgomery County Council to help redevelop the South Silver Spring area by erecting a proposed $700,000 county office building there.

The building would have the Silver Spring People's Court, police substation, and other county government offices.

The Silver Spring spokesmen opposed building the structure on a northern Silver Spring site.

DOUGHNUT HOLE GROWS

Leonardtown Alcohol Tax Office To Close

BALTIMORE (AP)—The federal Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Enforcement unit office in Leonardtown will be closed effective Oct. 5 and its duties handled by the La Plata office, the Internal Revenue Service said Wednesday.

A spokesman emphasized that moonshine production in St. Mary's County hadn't stopped, but officials believe the La Plata agents will be able to handle the work load in the area.

One Leonardtown agent has been reassigned to Baltimore and the other will go to La Plata, replacing an agent transferred elsewhere.

New Bus Routes In City Worked Out

Route arrangements for the bus lines which service Cumberland have been worked out with the City Police Department, according to Police Commissioner Philmore F. Fleming.

The old terminal at the Southern Hotel discontinued operations Tuesday, Fleming said, although the parking facilities there will continue to be utilized by two companies on a temporary basis.

The new terminal on Valley Street went into business yesterday for the Greyhound and Osgood lines, the commissioner said, adding that the route for the latter line was approved following a conference with company officials and Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn.

Coming into the city, Osgood passengers will be discharged on Greene Street near the Blue Bridge. Buses will proceed to the new bus terminal by way of Cumberland, Market and Centre streets. Leaving the city Osgood buses will reverse the same route by way of Mechanic Street.

Chief Flynn said the route was laid out to avoid having the buses use Baltimore Street and possible traffic tie-ups when negotiating the turn onto Centre Street.

The arrival and departure times have been planned so as not to interfere with traffic to and from the area's industrial plants, Chief Flynn pointed out.

The Peoples Transit and Mt. Savage Bus lines will continue to discharge and pick up passengers at the old terminal while officials of the companies work out arrangements for parking of the vehicles during layovers.

Both lines have permission to cross Baltimore Street for discharge and pickup of passengers once such arrangements have been completed, Fleming said.

Spokesmen for the Peoples Transit firm yesterday said they would prefer having such parking arrangements at a spot south of Baltimore Street so that it would be convenient to pick up passengers at the Elks Home on South Centre Street before proceeding toward Frostburg.

Although nothing definite has been worked out, it is reported the two bus lines hope to obtain use of the new parking lot next to the Times-News Building when it begins operating around the first of next month.

Sentence Delayed In Larceny Case

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday withheld sentencing of a Frostburg man on a charge of larceny pending a report from David M. Steele, state probation officer.

Richard H. McClintock Jr., 25, who entered a guilty plea to the charge, was taken into custody last April on charges of stealing a large number of articles from the local Sears Roebuck Company Store, where he had been employed.

State's Attorney James S. Getty told the court that McClintock took a large number of guns which were valued in excess of $800. After he was charged with the larcenies, McClintock gave the names of the persons to whom he sold the weapons and other articles.

Getty said all of the articles were recovered with the exception of a pistol and two shotguns which had a total value of $145.85.

Milton Gerson, attorney for McClintock, told the court that his client had no previous police record.

Wamba Caravan Lists Activities

Wamba Caravan 89, Order of Alhambra, will receive communion at the 9 a. m. mass Sunday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, according to Stanley R. Fretwell, grand commander.

A breakfast will be served in the parish hall following the mass, Fretwell said, at which wives will be guests.

Officers of the caravan will be elected at a meeting Monday 8:30 p. m. at the Knights of Columbus home. Refreshments will be served following the meeting, and wives will also be guests at that affair, Fretwell stated.

The new officers will be installed Sunday, October 19, at Cottage Inn.

JOB FIGURES RELEASED

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Executive agencies of the federal government Wednesday reported civilian employment in August totaling 2,373,929, an increase of 519 over July. Total federal employment in August was 1,276,506, an increase of 817 over July. Total civilian employment in the military agencies in August was 1,097,423, a decrease of 298 compared with July.

cord of any description and the thefts of the guns came after he started having marital troubles and began drinking. Since then McClintock's wife received a divorce.

Gerson said McClintock had been working as an attendant at a hospital in Baltimore and could return to his job if the court would see fit to grant him a suspended sentence. McClintock has been out on bond.

After hearing the facts in the case, Judge Harris ordered McClintock into custody of the sheriff until he receives the probation report and passes sentence.

OLD SKELETONS FOUND

MANILA (UPI) — The skeletal remains of Filipinos who presumably lived ages before Ferdinand Magellan came to the Philippines have been discovered on Cebu Island, it was reported Wednesday.

The bones, found inside a burial jar by oil drillers, indicated that the Filipinos had a civilization flourishing in the area long before the Spaniards came, officials said.

Two of the issues involved a tractor on the city dump which is in need of repair. Council had advertised for bids on repair of the tractor and also for bids on a new or used tractor replacement.

One bid was submitted for repair by McClung-Logan Equipment Company, Baltimore. Bidding on the new and or used tractor were McClung-Logan; Morgan Brothers Farm Supply, Frostburg, and Rish Equipment Company, Clarksburg.

City officials pointed out that the present tractor cost $8,000 new, that at first glance it appeared repair costs might be excessive and a new or used tractor would be its solution.

The bids on both were referred to Street Commissioner John J. Long, City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum and City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson for tabulation and report.

Bids were also received on improving Fourth Street between Wempe Drive and Blackiston Avenue. Bidding are Hout Construction Company and Orrie Sensabaugh. These were referred to Commissioner Long.

Bidding on the Van Buren Avenue improvement project are Cumberland Contracting Company, Orrie Sensabaugh, Hout Construction Company and S. T. Brotemarkle Construction Company. These were also referred to the Street Department.

TV Course In Atomic Age Physics Set

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster is reminding Allegany County physics teachers of an unusual opportunity to take a college course for credit in atomic age physics.

Business and industry have joined the Ford Foundation in making $1,262,000 available for a nationwide physics course to help science teachers in schools improve their knowledge and understanding.

Under the name "Continental Classroom," the lessons will begin over NBC television stations on October 6. The broadcast hour is 6:30 to 7 a.m. WJAC-TV in Johnstown, Pa., has announced plans to carry the teaching telecast but it does not appear on the WRC-TV in Washington schedule submitted for next week.

There will be 160 half-hour periods, five days a week, from October 6 until June 5.

Presentations during the first semester will be devoted to those aspects of physics necessary for an understanding of atomic and nuclear physics. The second semester will deal exclusively with atomic and nuclear physics.

The national teacher will be Dr. Harvey E. White, professor and vice chairman of the department of physics at the University of California in Berkeley.

The course is designed primarily for high school teachers of science but also for college students planning to teach science, liberal arts college students who recognize the importance of science in education, gifted high school students who wish to learn more about physics, engineers who wish to enhance their knowledge of physics and adult citizens who are interested in obtaining a better understanding of recent developments in the scientific world.

Mr. Luke is manager of the Luke Mill which manufactures fine grades of paper.

with the eight teachers of physics to explain details of the course.

The physics teachers are Harold C. Wickard, Allegany; Dr. Melvin L. Brown, Beall; Thomas Ritchie, Bruce; Eugene C. Harris, Flintstone; William M. Leeson, Fort Hill; John Morgan, Mt. Savage; Granville M. Cannon, Oldtown, and James P. Frase, Valley.

Those interested in enrolling for this course with the University of Maryland may make their initial contact with the College of Special and Continuation Studies, University of Maryland, College Park. They will be required to come to the campus each Saturday morning for two hours of supplemental instruction. The first meeting will take place at 9 a.m. October 11 in the physics building.

City Native Is Promoted

A native of Cumberland was promoted Tuesday to one of the top positions in the Bethlehem Steel Company's Sparrows Point plant in Baltimore.

He is Harold Bruce Scharf, son of Mrs. Alice Scharf, 527 North Mechanic Street, and the late Howard Bruce Scharf, former Western Maryland Railway employee. He was named superintendent of the coke oven department.

Scharf and his wife, the former Miss Virginia Wilson of Cumberland, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Tuesday, the day the promotion was announced by General Manager C. T. Stott.

Scharf was graduated from Allegany High School in 1928 and from Johns Hopkins University in 1933. He is a gas engineer. The Cumberland man and his predecessor, Jack K. Kurtz, together with four other officials were honored at a dinner given by the company Tuesday in Baltimore.

December comes from the Latin word, "decem," which means "ten." That was when there were but ten months in the year.

The famous composer, Ludwig von Beethoven, dressed so poorly that he was once arrested as a tramp.

The Army Finally Gets Attention

Strong indications emanate from the Pentagon—despite all the talk about this as the missile age—that the Army will be beefed up, possibly by as much as $15 billion in the next five years. The Strategic Air Command now and missiles in the future may be the final deterrent against hydrogen bomb oblivion. But—as Lebanon and the Formosa Straits crises have revealed—nuclear bombs aren't the answer in small wars. So the Army, which has had difficulty persuading anyone to listen to its woes in the years of Air Force supremacy, is finally garnering some attention. The bomber-missile stalemate between the United States and Russia has shifted attention to the trouble-making potentialities possible in the so-called "small wars." For prestige reasons, as well as strategic, the United States cannot afford to lose these either. So at the request of Defense Secretary McElroy a modernization plan has been worked out in great detail by the Army. If the plan is approved by the Defense Department and Congress, it will call for doubling the present spending for "hardware" in the next five years. The Army now spends about $1.4 billion a year to replace present weapons and equipment. The new plan would boost this to approximately $3 billion a year.

Purpose is to build a brand new "pentomic" U.S. Army equipped to atom standards by 1963. The present 15 division strength with 900,000 officers and men would be retained, but units and individual soldiers would be provided with equipment for the hit-and-move tactics of atomic warfare. For the taxpayer, of course, this is another bit of gloomy news. No one expects the bill for missile development to taper off, and the Defense Department is convinced it must have bombers for years to come. The new program, if adopted, will be an added cost.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky Two Useful Books

Professor Harry Overstreet and his wife, Bonaro, form an interesting team of psychologists who approach political problems, not from the standpoint either of the politician or the journalist but as technicians in the science of human behavior, which makes much difference. Most of their writings have been in the field of how the mind works and perhaps as we approach their newest book, "What We Must Know About Communism," it is still in their disciplined field of the mind.

For Communism is a curious phenomenon which is sweeping much of the world and yet seeds down in the least expected places. Certainly Karl Marx never expected that his particular form of Dialectical Materialism would assume the proportions of a religion in Orthodox, backward, agricultural Russia, nor could anyone have foreseen that its second center of strength would be China.

In fact, the Overstreets point out that as recently as 1943, "Fortune" showed through an opinion poll conducted by Elmo Roper "... that 48 per cent of the group specified as 'executives' were confident that Soviet Russia would not try, after the war, to bring about Communist governments in other countries." Roper could, of course, find no such figure among journalists who write on this subject, for journalists are a suspicious folk who disbelieve words and turn to deeds. Nevertheless, the Overstreets report that "In March of that same year, Gardner Cowles, Jr., publisher of 'Look,' wrote that Stalin 'wants just what the United States wants—security and peace.' 'Life' devoted its entire issue of March 29, 1943, to 'Soviet-American cooperation'—without which, the editors stated, 'there can be no stable, peaceful world.' As for the restrictive character of the Communist regime: 'When we take into account what the USSR has accomplished in 20 years ... we can make allowances for certain shortcomings, however deplorable.'"

This is very sad, indeed, for the years since then have clearly proved these judgments to have been wrong and I can list a number of American journalists and experts who were warning the American people at that very time that the Trojan Horse is a Communist device which must be suspect at all times.

The Overstreets do an excellent job of objective writing in this field, as they would in any other and this book is well worth reading.

At the same time, another volume comes to me from my old colleague in China, Edward Hunter, entitled "The Black Book on Red China." It may be difficult to get in book stores, as it is published by The Bookmailer, New York 16, New York. Edward Hunter has devoted many years of his life to China and adjacent areas, knows Oriental languages, and has a keen understanding of the people among whom he has lived and worked. His is no distant casual view nor is he objective about a world in which he lives. He writes with passion and zest and assurance of knowledge. He also has the advantage of using original source material which seems to be a dying art except in specialized books for the learned. His book, therefore, is full of quotations, something that I like very much, I always preferring a direct quote to a confused paraphrase.

I was particularly interested in Hunter's chapter on "Martyred Religion," which, of course, is to be expected in any Marxist country where religion is regarded as an opiate for the people, to be extirpated as soon as is convenient.

China had, before the Communist Revolution, a small number of Christians, comparatively. The Roman Catholics were more numerous than the Protestants, who were of many sects and denominations. The influence of Christianity, however, was enormous. In my day, for instance, nearly every one in the foreign service had studied at a Christian university either in China or abroad.

The Chinese Communists not only persecuted the Christian churches but took them over and converted them into agencies of political action. Hunter tells of the publication of a Protestant magazine, "Heavenly Wind," which is Communist government owned and which is used for Communist propaganda among the remaining Christians. Catholics are treated worse than Protestants.

Hunter's book, "The Black Book on Red China," is particularly worth while at this moment when the propaganda machine is at work to give the impression that Chinese Communists might be good ones like Tito. (Copyright, 1958, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

'More Tenderizer, Somebody'

Encouraging Realities Of The Quemoy Battle

By Joseph Alsop

TAIPEI, Formosa. It is encouraging to see Quemoy for yourself, as this reporter has just done, simply because the reality looks better than the statistics.

There is nothing wrong with the statistics. The Chinese Communists have indeed fired more than a third of a million shells into Quemoy and its dependent smaller islands. A largely effective artillery blockade of Quemoy has indeed been established by heavy batteries on the landing beaches. The Quemoy garrison and population are indeed being supplied by mere limited blockade running; and the Quemoy position cannot be indefinitely defended in this manner.

But when you actually see Quemoy and its defenders, you learn two additional facts of cardinal importance. In the first place, in startling contrast to their performance in Korea, the Chinese Communists have thus far done a pretty miserable job with the military means at their disposal. And for just this reason, in the second place, the problem of Quemoy is not quite so urgent as one might suppose.

The poorness of the Communist performance in this fighting has been both startling and mystifying. The most dramatically bad showing has of course been in the air. The Communist air force outnumbered the Nationalist air force by very nearly five to one. The MIG-17s that the Communists chiefly rely on are also at least marginally better aircraft than the F-86s which the Nationalists have sent up against them. By any reasonable standard, the Communists ought to have been able to count on smashing victories in the air.

Instead, the crack Nationalist pilots have inflicted a series of really dramatically humiliating defeats on the Communists. There have been three major and several minor air battles thus far. In all, the Communists have lost twenty-five aircraft certainly and seven or eight more probably, as proven by American study of the gun cameras' photographs. The Nationalists have meanwhile lost two aircraft in combat. In other words, the confirmed loss ratio has been close to fifteen to one.

There has been nothing accidental about this really staggering loss ratio, either. It has been consistently maintained. While this reporter was still on Quemoy, the Communist air commander made a desperate effort to retrieve himself, sending up 100 MIG-17s against only thirty-six Nationalist F-86s. The result was the biggest Communist air defeat to date.

As a practical matter, these Nationalist air victories do not directly encourage Quemoy's defenders—we on Quemoy had no idea that a wild air fight was going on several miles above our heads. But they have to be thought about in connection with a related factor in the situation. Despite the immense weight of metal thrown, the Communist artillery has also been pretty wretched until now.

You might suppose that very small islands which have received something like 100,000 tons of shells in about a month's time would show the effects rather gravely. More than half of the enemy fire has fallen on Little Quemoy and the two really tiny islands, Ta Tan and Erh Tan.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

One thing the World War proved was an island is tougher to defend than a green-house in a hailstorm.

We took every one we went after with a peninsula or so for lagniappe.

The Nipponese konked out Midway if history doesn't stutter. This time the lump in the mashed potatoes is Formosa.

We made a mistake around 1920 when we squandered a lot of islands. We were using archipelagos for bankrolls.

Allowance has to be made for the much heavier damage suffered by these positions which no reporter has yet been able to see at first hand. But even after making this needful allowance, no visitor to Big Quemoy can feel very much respect for the Communist gunners.

The physical damage they have done is negligible, mainly because they have been using air-burst and super-quick-fused shells. The casualties are very small in comparison to the enormous numbers of anti-personnel shells fired. The one solid accomplishment has been the artillery blockade of the beaches. And although this artillery blockade has become the key feature of the whole problem, it is still not tight enough so that the blockade cannot be run by the resolute Nationalist Marines in their small amphibious landing craft.

The reasons for the astonishing decline in the Communist military performance since Korea are really anyone's guess. This reporter would guess that this remarkable phenomenon has two causes. First, there are many Result was our enemies had more jumping-off places than a frog in a lumberyard.

This time Formosa is as different as Vaudeville acts. That's where the Nipponese staged their air strikes on the Philippines. It's less than a whale's swim away.

That's okay with Chiang Kai-shek who regards Formosa as a home away from home.

Islands are pretty much like library books. You can take 'em but you can't keep 'em.

Senator Green, Oldest To Serve In Senate, Has Known 14 Presidents

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's note—Drew Pearson today awards the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round to Sen. Theodore Francis Green, elder statesman of the Senate, who is celebrating his 91st birthday.)

WASHINGTON—Sen. Theodore Francis Green of Rhode Island has seen 91 years of American history roll by during which he has met 14 Presidents. This is almost one-half the Presidents of the United States.

His memory in quite clear regarding them.

The first was Rutherford B. Hayes, who came to Providence in 1877. Mrs. Hayes, seeing the 10-year-old Theodore Francis just behind her in the receiving line, said: "Come here, little boy, you can't see what's going on." Thereafter he stood right beside the President as the latter shook hands with the people of Providence.

James A. Garfield, who followed Hayes, was assassinated. He was the only President since 1877 Green did not meet.

Chester Arthur, who replaced Garfield in 1881, came to Newport when Green was about 15. When they shook hands, Theodore Francis yelled: "Ouch!"

"Look here, young man," said President Arthur. "I'll show you something. I always squeeze the other man's hand first. Otherwise he'll squeeze mine."

Grover Cleveland, the first Democratic President Green met, came to Harvard when the Senator was studying at Harvard Law School, and the future Senator was invited to sit on the platform. Later, he met Cleveland at several receptions in Washington, where Green's uncle, Sam Green Arnold, was a U. S. Senator. Eight of Green's relatives, incidentally, served in the House or Senate.

The Senator recalls meeting Benjamin Harrison briefly at a White House reception. Teddy Roosevelt's friend

President William McKinley, Green also met at a White House party to which he had been invited by Secretary of State John Hay, a friend of Green's father at Brown University. Mrs. McKinley was subject to spasms but insisted on attending White House receptions, and the chief memory young Green took away from Washington was of Mrs. McKinley dressed in elegant finery, sitting in a wheel chair, then suddenly seized with a spasm. A handkerchief was thrown over her face and she was taken away.

"Theodore Roosevelt was really a good friend," recalls Senator Green, "so much so that he asked me to be his New England campaign manager."

"I had attended the Baltimore Democratic Convention which was deadlocked so long over Champ Clark of Missouri that Peter Gerry and I were the only Rhode Island delegates remaining. I threw the Rhode Island votes to Wilson and went home to find Teddy's wire asking me to help with his Bull Moose campaign in New England."

"I had to say no, that I was supporting Wilson."

"During World War I, Teddy was anxious to command a division in France. Because I had supported Wilson at Baltimore he thought I had influence, and asked me to approach Wilson for him. I replied that I had never asked a personal favor."

"You're not asking a favor for yourself, but for a personal friend of yours," Teddy replied.

Top-Spinning Taft "So I saw Wilson. He said he would take the matter up with his military advisers, but he never gave TR a command."

Senator Green knew William Howard Taft quite well and once asked him if he didn't get tired "spinning like a top."

"Do you know what happens when a top stops spinning?" Taft asked. "It dies."

Green first met Woodrow Wilson when the latter was a professor at Princeton and came to speak at Brown. Wilson spent the night at the Green residence in Providence, built in colonial days.

"Wilson was aloof," recalls the Senator. "I admired him very much, but I never could get close to him."

Warren G. Harding, who died in office, Green knew only slightly. Coolidge, who followed him, Green met many times, and he remembers a White House reception at which he stood beside a former Coolidge classmate who proceeded to tell the President the story of a mutual school prank.

Coolidge didn't crack a smile. Embarrassed, Mrs. Coolidge tried to cover up.

"Calvin, wasn't that an amusing anecdote?" she said. "I'm so glad you told us."

Green also recalls a story told him by one of the famed Patton sisters who knew she was going to sit beside Coolidge and bet $10 she could make him talk. At the dinner the following conversation took place.

"Mr. President, I'm so honored to sit beside you."

No answer.

"They told me you wouldn't talk."

No answer.

"But I knew you'd talk to me."

No answer.

"In fact I bet ten dollars on it."

"You lost."

Herbert Hoover once spent the night at the Green home when Secretary of Commerce. Green describes him as "most intelligent, but a bit reticent. He was pleasant, though quiet. Took in more than he gave out."

Franklin Roosevelt also was entertained at the Senator's home in Providence when Secretary of the Navy. "He was a real friend," recalls Green. "It was he who got me started taking a checkup. I was at the White House one day when he said he had to go to the hospital."

"What's the matter?" I asked. "Nothing, just a checkup," he explained. "If you don't get them you're foolish. Come with me."

"At the hospital FDR said, 'Give Senator Green the same examination you give me.' They did and I've had one every year since."

Senator Green first met Harry Truman in the Senate and occupied the office next to his for four years. They were close friends. President Eisenhower he first met when Ike was an army officer.

That is the record of the oldest man ever to serve in the Senate. Probably no other man has ever known so many Presidents, and it may take another half century for anyone else to equal the record.

Other World Series

By Bob Considine

MILWAUKEE — Not that anybody asked, but I began covering the World Series games just 25 years ago. The Washington Senators against the New York Giants ... Hubbell, Terry, Ott, Fitzsimmons, Blondy Ryan ... Whitehill, Goslin, Rice, Cronin, Crowder, Good men.

F.D.R. was fresh in his White House. A German with a funny little mustache, named Hitler or something like that, seemed to be taking over in that country. Mussolini, greatly admired in the U.S. for making Italian trains run on time, wrote pieces for our Sunday papers.

The only news from Japan was of an earthquake. If anybody had asked Judge Landis how much he got for the television rights to that series, the old Judge would have growled and chased him. What's television? Mae West was big in Hollywood and most of the blue stories of the day were variations of her "Why don't you come up and see me sometime?"

Whitey Ford was five years old, Don Larsen three. Mickey Mantle was two, Lew Burdette seven, Yogi Berra eight and Hank Aaron hadn't been born yet. Jack Benny was 39, the same age as Country Slaughter. Khrushchev had a minor party job in the Ukraine. Ike was a major, doing a public relations job for Chief of Staff Douglas MacArthur, part of which was to take the hats and coats of congressmen calling on the chief.

If we were ever going to have any trans-Atlantic air travel it would be in zeppelins. Frances Perkins's tri-cornered hats were being copied. Westbrook Pegler was moving out of sports and thinking of calling his column "Sweetness and Light." The most photographed kids in the land were Buzze and Sistine Doll. People were saying, "Why not recognize Russia? She'll be good to trade with." Babe Ruth "covered" the Series for Christy Walsh and, inevitably, caught the only line drive that came into the press box.

That's a depressingly long time ago, but the memories of some of the series that followed blurt the woe. Dizzy Dean in '34, barging into the batting practice of the Detroit Tigers, taking a bat away from Billy Rogell, and belting out a couple of line drives—in street clothes. And his brother Paul, who also won two for the Cardinals in that series, never being able to get a word in when Dizzy had the floor.

Mickey Cochrane, in '35, scoring the run that won for the Tigers—his hat flying off his head as he streaked for home on Goose Goslin's drive to right. Hubbell, the Man Alone, in the Yanks-Giants series of '36 and '37, and Dean's great slow-ball defeat by the Yanks in '38 ... and Derringer and Walters and the irrepressible Buck Newsum in '39 and '40. Mickey Owen's passed ball in '41, the inspiration play of Billy Southworth's Cards in '42 ... and drab nights at an Eighth Air Force airbase in England, listening to the '43 Series with a wonderful boy who was soon to die, Maj. Billy Southworth Jr.

The ludicrously bad series of '44 and '45. Nine straight pinch-hitters struck out in the former, and on the eve of the clash of '45 Warren Brown uttered his immortal, "I don't think either side can win." Then the blur of those Yankee-Dodger series that seemed never to end, just begin where the other contest ended, another inning instead of another year. That skein almost killed baseball.

Carol Ann Bean Awarded Music Scholarship

FROSTBURG — Carol Ann Bean, a freshman at State Teachers College at Frostburg and a graduate of Beall High School, Class of 1958 has been awarded a music scholarship at the college by the Phi Omicron Delta Sorority according to Miss Mary Frances DeLuca, president. This award is made annually by the sorority.

Carol auditioned for the scholarship along with vocalists, instrumentalists and other pianists last May. The award was given on the basis of her piano interpretation of Mendelssohn's "Agitation." She will receive a year's tuition for private piano instruction.

Judges in the competition were: Charles I. Sager, Dr. Ward K. Cole, and Mrs. R. Monroe Harris, all of the College's Department of Music, Mrs. John Sorinig, local vocalist and Frank Gamble, director of music in Allegany County.

While at Beall High School, Carol was active in various organizations. She was president of Tri-Hi-Y, secretary of the Honor Society, secretary-treasurer of the band, secretary and accompanist of the chorus, and treasurer of the Senior Class.

At graduation exercises in June Carol received two awards: the "Service Above Self" bond given by the Frostburg Rotary Club and a bond for excellence in music. She has taken piano lessons for eleven years and clarinet and organ lessons for a year.

She will receive her piano instruction at the college from Mrs. Monroe Harris and is also enrolled in the college chorus and band. She plans to become an elementary teacher.

Petersburg Hi Vo-Ag Team Gets Award

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—Petersburg High School won the sweepstakes award at the 1958 State Vo-Ag Judging contests held last week on the campus of West Virginia University, according to Dr. R. C. Butler, professor and head of the Department of Agricultural Education.

More than 370 boys, representing 41 high schools, participated in the event.

The Grant County judging team took the sweepstakes award by winning first places in the plant pathology and poultry judging contests and then collecting enough points in the other five contests to turn in the best "overall" judging performance.

In winning the poultry contest, the Petersburg team proved itself to be in top condition for the National Future Farmers of America poultry judging contest to be held in Kansas City October 15.

Petersburg won the right to represent West Virginia in this national contest by winning the poultry judging event in the State Vo-Ag Judging contests here a year ago. By winning this year they will represent West Virginia again next year in the district and national events.

Parsons High School won the dairy judging contest and with it the privilege of representing West Virginia at the International Dairy Cattle Congress at Waterloo, Iowa, in 1959.

Milwaukee Takes Series Opener From New York, 4-3

Bruton Wins Contest In 10th Frame

Billy's Single Cops Victory For Spahn; Yanks Waste Homers

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Bad-legged Bill Bruton's slashing single to right center and wily Warren Spahn's gallant 10 innings of toil swept the battling Milwaukee Braves to a 4-3 extra-inning victory over the favored New York Yankees Wednesday in the first game of the World Series.

It was a madhouse full of heroes this bright, crisp day, as Bruton's blast off flame-throwing Ryne Duren broke open tense heart-stopping struggle by sending big Joe Adcock racing home with the winning run.

For the standing room only crowd of 46,367 cheered and stamped and whistled themselves hoarse for the comeback Braves who pulled even with a last-ditch rally in the eighth—and then pulled it out in the 10th with singles by Adcock, Del Crandall and that solid, game-winning smash by Bruton.

Roar For Spahn

Their roars were for the 37-year-old Spahn, who fought grimly through an eight-hit barrage—and proved to his mates that Duren could be hit with a single in the ninth.

They cheered, too, for Hank Aaron who scored their first run; the defensive play of veteran Andy Pafko, Wes Covington and Eddie Mathews as he came home with the tying run in the eighth.

It was a struggle, because Spahn gave up home runs to Moose Skowron and Hank Bauer—hitting safely in a record 15th consecutive Series game. And Bauer had choked them off when they deadlocked in the eighth by stabbing into the sky to rob Aaron out of what would have been a victory-clinching home run.

They started banging at each other right from the start and on only three defensive gems—two by Pafko and one by Covington—kept those gray-clad Yankees from scoring.

Ford In Trouble

Ford was in trouble, too, because a double by Logan and an error by young Tony Kubek—the goat of their last meeting—had him taking deep breaths in the first two innings. But both times, Whitey threw it past the hitters to bail himself out.

Skowron, who had been in such a bad slump that he almost was turned down for a starting assignment, jerked himself out of it in the Yankee fourth and sent the New Yorkers out in front as he lined a 2-2 pitch over the left field fence for a 1-0 New York lead.

But those Braves banged right back—and Ford had no one to blame but himself as he walked Aaron, the first man up. Hammering Hank took second on a passed ball, held as Adcock grounded out and pounded on to third as Covington grounded to Gil McDougald at second.

Then it was Spahn, using his bat as well as that rubber left arm, who laced a single to center which scored Crandall and pushed Milwaukee into a 2-1 lead.

That Milwaukee lead was short lived. With one away in the fifth, Ford drew a walk and then it was the veteran Bauer, a link with the years when the Yankees were a legend of power, who lofted a two-run homer into the left field bleachers to push the Yankees out in front, 3-2.

Didn't Throw Towel

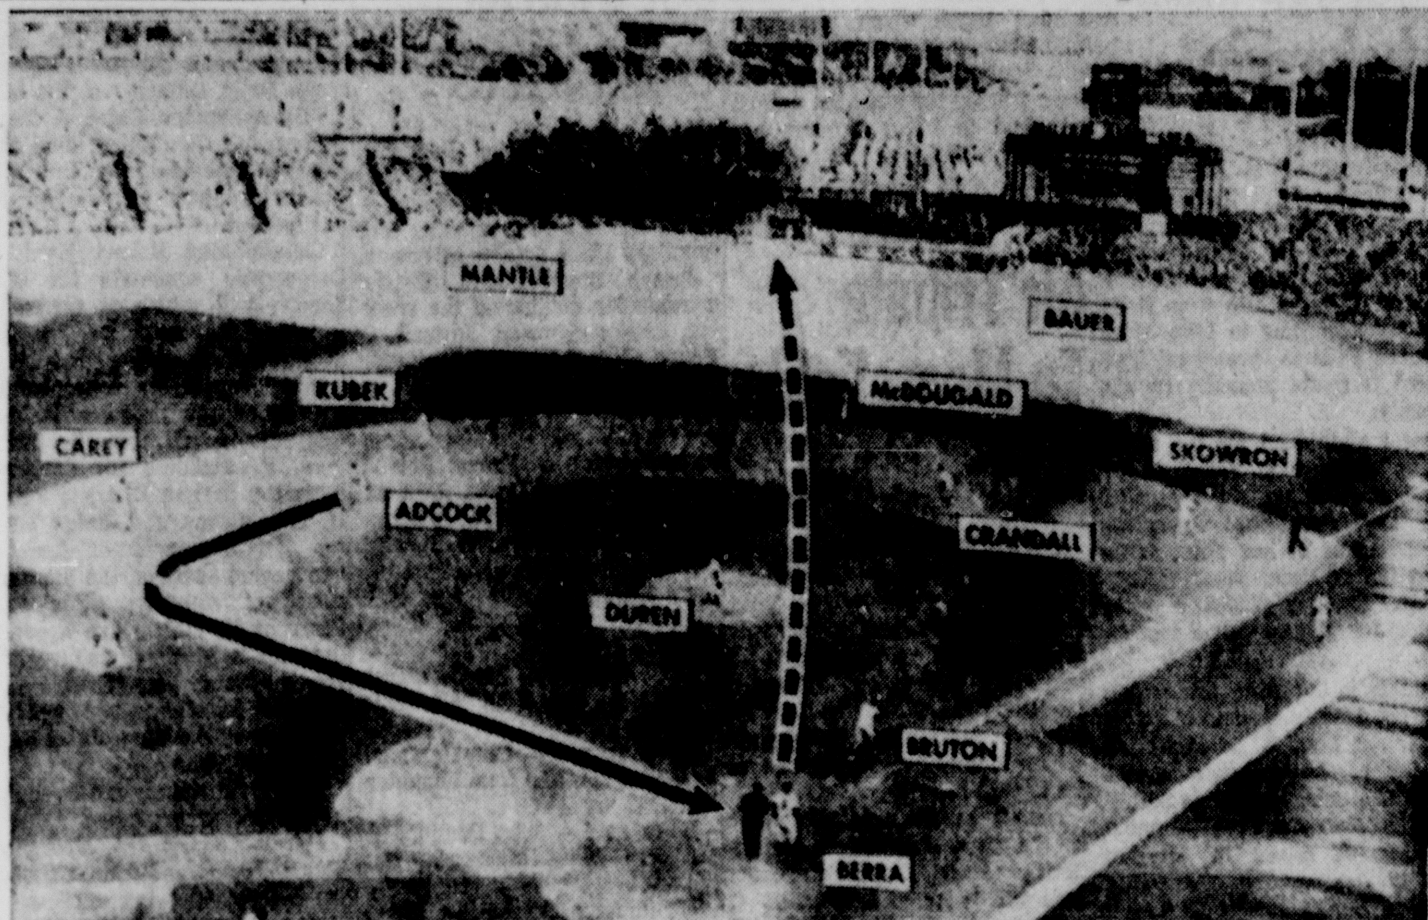

Still the Braves refused to throw in the towel. Mathews got them rolling with a walk as Ford obviously was tiring and then Aaron lashed the ball in an arching flight toward the right field wall.

Bauer almost became the hero of the day then. Racing to the wall, he leaped high into the air and kept the ball from clearing the barrier, batting it down to the turf and then scooping it up to hold Aaron to a double as Mathews raced on into third.

Ford took his walk to the showers and the crowd gasped as the near-sighted Duren blazed his first warmup pitch down the hill and almost out of the park. Adcock went down swinging with futility and then Covington smashed a sacrifice fly to center. It was enough to keep the Braves alive. Mathews tagged up and came on home and it was all square at 3-3.

Thursday before another home audience they'll try to make it two in a row with rangy Lew Burdette—the man who won three games for them the last time around and showed he was ready by winning 20 during the regular season.

For the Yankees it will be "Bullet Bob" Turley, top winner in the 21 and 7.

BRUTON'S HIT WINS BALL GAME — Dotted arrow indicates the flight of the ball hit by Milwaukee Braves outfielder Billy Bruton, whose 10th inning single sent Joe Adcock home from second base with the winning run in Milwaukee's 4-3 victory in the World Series opener over the New York Yankees. Del Crandall was on first base when Bruton spanked one of Ryne Duren's fast balls between the outfielders to plate Adcock who also had singled. (AP Photofax)

Eastcor Cops Steeplechase

Favorite Victor At Rolling Rock

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — Eastcor, a 6-year-old brown gelding, fulfilled its favored role Wednesday with a victory in the Rolling Rock Hunt Cup race.

With jockey Harry Hatcher up, the winner gave the opening-day crowd at the Rolling Rock Races a thrill in the steeplechase for a purse of $2,500. The horse is owned by George T. Weymouth, of Greenville, Del. E. Weymouth is the trainer.

Curly Joe, ridden by Pat Smith, finished second and Local Run driven by C. Cassidy was third.

The course was slow because of an overnight rain. However the sun was shining brightly in the afternoon. An estimated 4,000 persons thronged the grounds at the club.

Weymouth received the Challenge Cup, presented in memory of the late Richard Beatty Mellon, founder of the club. He will keep the cup until the next running of the race. Last year Mrs. Cordelia Scaife May's Billing Bear, also entered in the 1958 event, was the winner.

Eastcor also is entered in Saturday's $5,000 Gold Cup, featured event of the two-day series of racing.

Rinehart Opposes Off-Track Betting

BALTIMORE (AP)—The chairman of the State Racing Commission said Wednesday he is completely opposed to a proposal to legalize off-track betting in Maryland.

Four Baltimore City councilmen have asked for a study of permitting betting through bookies to meet the city's need for at least $20,000,000 in new revenue next year.

D. Eldred Rinehart, commission chairman, said the proposal would undermine thoroughbred horse racing, adversely affect the tax money the state derives from the sport and upset the "delicate balance" with which the state, counties and Baltimore City now receive from racing.

Joe Taylor Faces Disorderly Charge

BALTIMORE (AP)—Joe Taylor, the outfielder Manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles brought up to slug baseballs, was placed in $100 bail Wednesday for a hearing next week on a disorderly conduct charge.

Taylor was arrested in a tavern Tuesday night. Magistrate Linwood G. Koger asked Taylor: "You're the ball player, aren't you? The Orioles man?"

Taylor nodded. "You hit several home runs since you've been here, and I'm certainly sorry to see you in trouble," said the judge after he set bail.

Conlin Holds Out

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Ed Conlin, a forward with the Syracuse Nationals for the past two seasons, Wednesday was called a "definite holdout" by officials of the National Basketball Association club.

Conlin averaged 15 points a game last year and 13.5 the year before.

Rain Cancels Tryouts

Frostburg Teachers Open Soccer Season On Friday

Babcock Eleven Meets Lock Haven

Frostburg State Teachers will open their 1958 soccer season on Friday when the Bobcats travel to Lock Haven, Pa., to meet a well-balanced eleven in the Pennsylvania city.

Coach Kenneth Babcock announced last night that 28 players have turned out for drill for this year's squad which will be predominately made up of freshmen booters.

Eight returning lettermen will form the nucleus for the squad in addition to four other players who have experience but did not earn letters last year.

The lettermen include Ronald "Butch" Young, senior, Bill Preston, Norm Nightingale who was named all-southern player last year; sophomore Ed Truly, Larry Shaffer, junior Howard Gilpin, and Frostburg's All-American soccer candidate who was named to the all-southern team last season, senior John Horine.

Returning with considerable experience are Tom Swauger, Art Scarcelli, senior Dorsey Johnson and Jim Lupis, the latter a returning serviceman who previously played at Frostburg.

In addition new faces among the freshman crop of candidates for positions on the squad are Roy Sigler who gained his soccer experience at Middletown High School which generally fields a strong team, Gerry Llewellyn, who was a mainstay on Valley High's soccer team which went undefeated for three years; Bill Patton who also played under Coach Johnny Meyers at Valley; Adolph Doerk, Brent Stine, Marshall Jones, Art Isom, Geoffrey Whitmore and Ronnie Mann.

Friday's contest is expected to be a tough opener, Coach Babcock said last night, as Lock Haven perennially has good teams. Last year Lock Haven defeated Frostburg, 3-2.

The first home game will pit the Bobcats against the Penn State Frosh on October 11. State won the game from Penn State last year, 3-1.

Lynchburg, Va., is a new team on the Frostburg schedule this season and will furnish the opposition for the annual Homecoming Game at Frostburg on Saturday, October 25.

Defense A Question

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Pass defense continued as the big question Wednesday as Syracuse University readied for its second consecutive outing against a sharp-pitching quarterback, Tom Greene of Holy Cross.

Last week, in defeating Boston College 24-14, the Syracuse pass defense was shoddy against Don Allard, the Eagles' star passer. Allard was injured at the end of the first half and did not return after the intermission.

Named To Stars

NEW YORK (UPI) — Archie Dees of Indiana and Dave Gambee of Oregon State Wednesday were added to the College All-Star squad which will play the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association in a charity game at Madison Square Garden Oct. 18.

Tech Leads Loop Defense

West Virginians Second In Offense

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — Rampaging West Virginia Tech, the early leader in the state conference football race, tops three statistical departments, league executive secretary George Springer said Wednesday.

The Golden Bears lead in rushing, rushing defense and total defense. They are second in total offense.

The Bears also claim the two top individual offensive players. Blair Weese has scored six touchdowns for a big lead in scoring with 36 points. He also leads in rushing yardage with 204 yards. Teammate Bob Young is second in rushing with 189 yards.

Tech has rushed for an average of 263.6 yards to second place Bluefield State's 220.5. Davis & Elkins' 77 yards passing in its single game leads in the aerial yardage average department. Bluefield is first in total offense with 285.5 yards.

On defense Tech has limited three opponents to an average of 44 yards rushing and 26 yards passing for a total prevention average of 70 yards. West Liberty is a distant second in total defense with 120.5 yards.

Rain Upsets Mont's Plans

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Rain upset Coach Tommy Mont's plans for a heavy scrimmage Wednesday so the Maryland football team held dummy drills in a drizzle that kept up all afternoon.

Mont planned to take the players indoors but they asked to work out outside. Most of the preparation for Saturday's encounter with Clemson was spent on defense.

Offensively, the first three units ran against a defensive team of freshmen, with quarterback Bob Rusevyan hitting his receivers well.

Southpaw Luis Arroyo, who had a 10-3 record with Columbus, and Art Swanson who toiled for Columbus and Lincoln, went to the Jets in exchange for Jackson. Swanson won two and lost six with Columbus and had a 3-7 chart with Lincoln.

GIUSEPPE MOSCHETTI AT ORGAN

Organ Concert Tonight At Frostburg Church

First United Presbyterian Church of Frostburg will sponsor a concert of sacred organ music tonight featuring Giuseppe Moschetti.

The program will begin at 8 p. m. and will be held at the church. There will be a reception for Mr. Moschetti in the church annex following the recital.

Mr. Moschetti, a native of Italy, will be assisted by two chorists of his choir. He began his career in 1932 and has played concerts throughout England and Europe.

He came to this country from Canada in 1938 and has played concert tours throughout the United States. The concert organizer plans a concert tour in Texas later this month.

The program will include the selections of "Trumpet Time," "Aria Gregoriana," "Prelude and Fugue in D Minor," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Fanfare," "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us," "Holy, Holy, Holy," and "My Shepherd Will Supply My Need."

After intermission Mr. Moschetti will play "Evening Song," "The Primitive Organ," "The Little Shepherd," and "Toccata." The public is invited to attend the concert of sacred organ music, according to Rev. Paul Caravetta, pastor of the church.

During the current year, he noted, several members have died and some have left the city, however there are several thousand eligible veterans in the city who should be interested in joining the Legion, he suggested. This year, a special effort will be made to enroll as many new members as possible, as well as to retain all the current roster.

Tonight's membership campaign rally will be followed by a social hour.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our son, father and husband, Edwin M. Reed, who died 4 years ago, Oct. 1, 1954. You are not forgotten, Eddie. Nor ever will you be. As long as life and memory last, we will remember thee. As time goes by, we miss you. Your loving smile, your gentle face, no one will ever take your place. Sadly missed by
MOTHER, WIFE AND CHILDREN

Victory Bell Rings As CUF Drive Opens

Two-Thirds Of Goal Reported At Kickoff

The first ring of victory was heard by County United Fund workers last night when they kicked off the 1958 Mighty United drive with a total of $233,872.45 contributed toward a goal of $339,622.

Representing more than two-thirds of the ultimate goal, the figure was greeted with the ringing of the CUF victory bell by Mrs. Bette Satzer, wife of Roy P. Satzer, chairman of the Allegheny Ballistics One-Fund Charity Committee. Mr. Satzer had announced that ABL has exceeded its 1958 goal by nearly $2,000, and will no longer contribute to any other charity or health group "in an effort to help eliminate multiple fund drives."

Lewis J. Ort, CUF president, presided over the meeting, held at the North Branch plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. Mr. Ort said, "but we can't be complacent. The business and labor leadership in this area is tremendous, and we can't let it down. We must all work hard to keep our leadership strong and vigorous."

Captain Daniel K. Biggs, campaign chairman, said his duties have provided him with "a thrilling experience."

"CUF has consolidated our communities," he added, "and brought them closer together. You meet the finest people in every community in this kind of work."

He concluded by saying that "faith without good works is dead, and good works without faith are dead. In County United Fund, we find an abundance of both faith and good works."

Winfield H. Adam, executive director of CUF, expressed confidence that final victory will be reached when the current drive ends on October 21.

Mr. Ort introduced campaign leaders and mayors of the CUF area, and paid tribute to Dr. W. Royce Hodges, local gynecologist, and City Attorney William R. Carscaden, who, he said, laid the groundwork for a United Fund here.

Meet The Candidates

SIMEON W. GREEN
Republican

Simeon W. Green, 326 East Main Street, Frostburg, who served two terms as an Allegheny County Commissioner from 1938 to 1946, will be one of the three Republican candidates for County Commissioner.

Mr. Green qualified for the race on May 20 when he and William A. Wilson and James Orr were nominated as the Republican candidates out of a field of 12 candidates.

A native of Midland, Mr. Green is married and is the father of three children. His two sons, Sidney S. and Curtis, have been associated with him in the Green Chevrolet Company which he founded 31 years ago in Midland, and has been operated in Frostburg for a quarter of a century. The company is now in the process of being liquidated.

His daughter is Mrs. Patricia Curtis, who resides in California with her husband and children.

Before opening his automobile business, Mr. Green was a foreman at the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant here.

Mr. Green spent 16 years in public life from 1930 to 1946. He was finance commissioner of Frostburg from 1930 to 1934, was a member of the Board of Election Supervisors from 1934 to 1938. During the succeeding eight years he served as president of the Board of Allegheny County Commissioners.

Mr. Green's interest in local civic, as well as governmental affairs, is manifested by his many years of active membership and participation in the activities of the Frostburg Lions Club, B.P. O. E. Lodge 470, Frostburg Fire Department, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Allegheny Beagle Club and the Masonic Order. He is a member of Ali Ghan Shrine of Cumberland and is president of the Council of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Frostburg.

Candidate Green stated last night that in seeking election to the Board of County Commissioners he hopes to be able to expand the activities of the County Roads Department which was re-established under his leadership in 1941. He said that of the 500 miles of roads in the County System, 320 are as yet unpaved and that he proposes to support a program to hard-surface as much of this mileage as is possible.

He stated that preliminary plans for the recent school construction program in this county were started during his former tenure in office and that he hopes that a program for improvement of public schools can be carried out to keep the county's fine schools in a state of constant good repair.

Mr. Green also stated that he will support any measure which will improve the quality of education provided for the school children of this county.
